PACIFIC ISLANDER SYMPOSIUM

Identifying as a Pacific Islander can be a complex thing, but also rich with history and beauty that traces back to hundreds of years. Through story-telling, traditions, and culture, people are able to connect to their identity and families. This symposium is held to appreciate the Pacific Islander culture and highlight significant matters within the community.

Workshop:
Pacific Islander Domestic Violence and Statistics - Doris Yulfa
Mixed Race Identity for Pacific Islanders - Matthew Matalani
